Naturschutz (Geowissenschaften kompakt) (German Edition) Barbara Stammel, Bernd Cyffka

'Natur und Landschaft sind aufgrund ihres eigenen Wertes und als Grundlage für Leben und Gesundheit des Menschen auch in Verantwortung für die künftigen Generationen zu schützen.' So steht es im Gesetz zu Naturschutz und Landschaftspflege. Es besteht also eine gesetzliche Verpflichtung, die Natur zu erhalten. Doch was ist Naturschutz überhaupt, warum müssen manche Arten oder Lebensräume geschützt werden und wie funktioniert das in der Praxis? Welche Aspekte sind zu berücksichtigen, welche Prioritäten müssen gesetzt werden? Was verändert sich durch den globalen Wandel?

Diese und viele weitere Fragen rund um das Thema Naturschutz beantworten Barbara Stammel und Bernd Cyffka in dem vorliegenden Band. Besonders Studierenden aus planungsbezogenen und umweltwissenschaftlichen Studiengängen bringen sie das Thema kurz gefasst und übersichtlich näher. Der Band versteht sich als Einstieg in die Thematik und ist somit für Studierende wie auch interessierte Laien geeignet.
